International Lawyers Network Welcomes New Member in New Zealand, Burton & Company

New York (September 26, 2008) – On Friday, the International Lawyers Network announced that Burton & Company has joined the Network as their representative for New Zealand. The firm was established in 1989 and is a boutique commercial law firm with offices in Auckland, New Zealand. It has a commercial clientele based in New Zealand and elsewhere around the world.

The belief at Burton & Co is that they do what they do well. If confronted with an area in which they do not have a sufficient level of expertise, then the work is briefed to those whom they believe are best able to achieve the desired result. Burton & Co does not pretend to be a full service legal firm but does believe that through its network of associations and knowledge of the legal profession in New Zealand it can provide the best result for most clients.

Many of Burton & Co's clients come to them because they work together with a number of specialists around New Zealand. Their focus has always been and will continue to be to find creative ways to obtain the results their clients wish to achieve. Burton & Co's clients include some of the world's leading corporations and many small to medium size enterprises and high net worth individuals. Their practice areas focus on building and construction, capital raising, compliance, competition and regulatory, company re-organization and business restructuring, corporate and commercial law, dispute resolution, e-commerce, franchising, distribution, licensing and agency, information and communication technology, intellectual property, mergers and acquisitions, private equity and venture capital, real estate, resource management, technology, media and telecommunications, and trust and asset protection.
